

Mosaic Harmony, an inter-faith, multicultural community choir of the Metropolitan Washington Area, draws on the rich heritage of African-American inspirational music to demonstrate and encourage unity in the midst of diversity. Mosaic Harmony brings together people of diverse cultures, religions, ages, and backgrounds to celebrate humanity. The choir represents more than 17 faith traditions and performs everything from traditional spirituals to new songs composed by its popular and dynamic director, David North.

When people buy a ticket to a Mosaic Harmony concert, they're not just buying an entertaining, inspiring experience that's sure to get them singing and clapping along—they're also contributing to "Service Through Song."

Recent concerts have included a celebration of the 150th anniversary of St. Elizabeth's Hospital; a fundraiser for the Brain Tumor Foundation; a performance for the descendants of slaves in Annandale, Virginia; an annual concert at Northern Virginia Mental Health Clinic; a fundraiser for a multi-cultural youth center sponsored by six churches; a Martin Luther King Day performance at the Church of the Epiphany; a performance for residents at Goodwin House, a retirement community in Alexandria, VA—and more.

Founded in 1993, the choir is generously supported by private donations from devoted members and fans, benefit performances, and paid performances. The choir performs approximately twenty times during its choral season in a variety of locations throughout the Washington metropolitan area. Mosaic Harmony's vision is to be a source of inspiration on a local, national, and global level. By simply attending Mosaic Harmony concerts, buying the CD's, or spreading the word, you can help make that come true.
